Note:

This doc has been drawn up by the +OneX Software Development business unit (Maven).

It will serve as the point of reference to determine inter-unit billing for the work and costs contained within.

+OneX Cost Estimate Terms & Conditions

1. Standard terms of payment are upon receipt of invoice. +OneX will not proceed with the required work until Proof of Payment, for 50% of this Cost Estimate, has been received.
2. Additional items not specified in the proposal above will be discussed with client and the additional fees will be agreed by both parties before proceeding. This is an estimate based on the brief received. Changes to the brief, or fluctuations in scope, could result in revised cost estimate.
3. The above quote assumes all content/raw information, be supplied by client.
4. +OneX maintains the right to monitor the scope of the project / work quoted for in this Cost Estimate and charge for additional hours, where further scope creep has occurred, that has not been quoted on.
5. Acceptance of this Cost Estimate indicates acceptance of the costs and provides written approval for the project / work to proceed.
6. Copyright in respect of work commissioned will remain the property of +OneX until such time as the full cost thereof has been paid by the Client.
7. This Cost Estimate is valid for 30 days.

8. Billing structure and hourly rates subject to change.

9. The client will be responsible for payment and cover of any copyright attached to content used by +OneX otherwise agreed in writing).

Notes and feedback from supplier : To confirm, the effort required with the node and video/image examples that we discussed last year considered the landing page only. The plugins referred to then could be used via purchasing the code to implement onto a page with some custom work required as we need to ensure that applying something like that will work on desktop and smaller devices that accommodate the motion.

Given the smoke and video application, as well as applying the nodes onto additional banners per the figma design will require additional development hours outside of what we have estimated for building out the website.

This quote was initially R14 273 and has been negotiated to R9 852
